

PROSPERITY VS FINANCIAL ABUNDANCE

LIFE LESSON 23

Wayne McDonald, R.Sc.P.

newthoughtmedicine.com/lifelessons

Theme:

Prosperity is a state of consciousness; financial abundance is one of its many expressions.

Lesson

The words prosperity and financial abundance are often used as though they mean the same thing, yet they point to different realities. Financial abundance refers to money, assets, income, and material resources. Prosperity, however, is much greater. Prosperity is a consciousness of wholeness, sufficiency, and trust in the goodness of Life.

A person may possess great wealth and still feel poor. Another may have modest means and yet feel deeply prosperous. The difference lies not in the amount of money possessed but in the consciousness through which life is viewed.

Prosperity begins within. It is the awareness that we live in a universe of infinite possibilities. It is the realization that Life supports, sustains, and expresses itself through us. Prosperity includes health, love, peace of mind, creativity, purpose, friendship, opportunity, joy, and spiritual freedom. Money is one expression of prosperity, but it is not prosperity itself.

The Law of Mind responds to our inner convictions. When we believe there is not enough, we often experience limitation. When we recognize that we are connected to an Infinite Source, our thoughts expand, and we become receptive to greater good in every area of life. Financial abundance frequently follows this expanded awareness, but it is the effect rather than the cause.

The prosperous person understands that supply is not dependent upon a single channel. Infinite Mind is forever creating new avenues for good to appear. Ideas, opportunities, relationships, inspiration, and resources flow from the same Divine Source.

As consciousness expands, life expands. Prosperity is first an inner realization and then an outer demonstration.

Meditative Thought

I am rooted in the infinite abundance of Spirit.

Prosperity is the natural expression of Divine Life within me.

Affirmation

I live in a prosperous universe.

Financial abundance flows naturally as an expression of my prosperous consciousness.

Spiritual Practice

Today, broaden your definition of prosperity.

Take a few moments to acknowledge the many forms of abundance already present in your life—friendship, health, wisdom, creativity, opportunity, love, and peace.

Give thanks for each one and affirm:

"I am prosperous now, and every area of my life reflects the abundance of Spirit."